

Canadian Defence and Foreign Affairs Institute

<http://www.cdfai.org/>

Threat perceptions in Canada

Perceptions have shifted a great deal in the minds' of Canadians when it comes to threats to the vital interests of Canada in the next 10 years. Climate change now dominates the agenda, while terrorism and potential epidemics have almost disappeared from Canadians' radar screen.

Related articles

National Post

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_NationalPost_Canadians_say_climate_change.pdf

Ottawa Citizen

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_OttawaCitizen_Dont_underestimate_the_threats.pdf

Calgary Herald

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_CalgaryHerald_Climate_threat_tops_terror.pdf

The Vancouver Sun

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_VancouverSun_We_consider_climate_change.pdf

The Windsor Star

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_WindsorStar_Climate_tops_list.pdf

Canada.com

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_Canada.com_Climate_tops_list_of_concerns.pdf

The Huffington Post

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_TheHuffingtonPost_Climate_Change_A_Bigger_Threat.pdf

Kelowna.com

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_Kelowna.com_Climate_feared_more_than_terror.pdf

Leader Post

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_LeaderPost_Climate_change_biggest_threat.pdf

The Star Phoenix

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_TheStarPhoenix_Climate_change_more_feared.pdf

UPI.com

http://www.innovativeresearch.ca/100111_UPI.com_Canadians_deem_climate_change.pdf